

PREPARATION FOR ANNIE'S VISIT

To prepare your students in advance for Annie's visit, here's several sample questions that your teachers can discuss with them.

Who or what inspired you to write?

Is rewriting all that important?

Did you ever feel discouraged and want to give up?

How did you know that you wanted to be writer?

Did you ever write something that was terrible?

What is the process of getting a book published?

What do you like most about being an author?

How many hours a day do you write?

Where do your ideas come from?

Do you have a favorite author or book?

Do you use your life experiences in your writing?

Where did you find your information on Daniel Boone?

How long did it take you to write my book?

When you were growing up in school, did you like to write?

Do you have more books that you want to write?

Will your book be made into a movie or television series?

How many books have you sold?

Who did your drawings in your book?

What do you like to do when you are not writing?
